

Diver's 1-2-3

1. Introduction

Congratz! Now that you have a new Nixie account, let's see what it does for you and how you can make the most of it.

Your Nixie account encapsulates your scuba world and lets you share your experience and insights with whom you choose to. Nixie aims to set you free of the formalities of diving, and leverage the fun part. Here's how:

- Your logbook is not only online to access and share, but also for managing the signatures process. Instructor's, dive centers and buddy signatures are now online, at a touch of a button.
- Your dive media is in the logbook: your photos and videos are now part of your logbook, for you browse and share.
- Keep in touch with whom you choose – see where a buddy of yours has dived lately, what new tours your favorite dive center is offering. Stay tuned!

However, in this brief introduction we'll cover the logbook last, because we first need to know how to associate with buddies and dive centers.

Let's dive in.

2. My Nixie profile

2.1. Personal details

That's where you fill in the basics.

2.2. Diver's license

If you are a certified diver already, please scan and upload your certification on the profile page. If you are in the process of getting your certification, and pending the authorizing organization's permission, your certification will be updated by the dive center where you learn.

2.3. Privacy settings

Take your time to consider the level of sharing you choose for you Nixie profile – you can choose if to share the 'essentials' (certification and last dive date), profile and logbook with the buddies and dive centers you keep in touch with.

Home

- Profile
- Log Book
- Buddies
- Dive Centers
- Messages

Update my Profile

Personal info	Contact details
First name <input type="text" value="Sample"/>	Telephone <input type="text" value="4164492837"/>
Last name <input type="text" value="Diver"/>	Address line 1 <input type="text" value="500 some St."/>
Gender <input type="text" value="female"/>	Address line 2 <input type="text"/>
Birthdate <input type="text" value="1974-03-01"/>	Country <input type="text" value="Canada"/>
Profession <input type="text" value="chef"/>	Region <input type="text" value="Yukon"/>
Hobbies <input type="text"/>	City <input type="text" value="Aishihik"/>
Picture <input type="text"/>	Zip <input type="text" value="J4K3I2"/>
	License number <input type="text"/>
	Scanned license <input type="text"/>

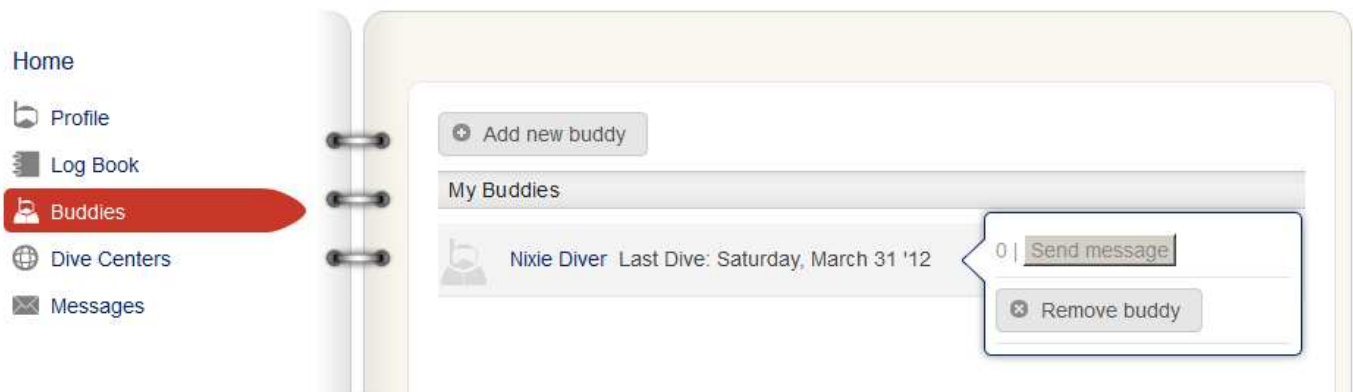

Privacy settings

Publish log to	<input type="text" value="everybody"/>
Publish essentials to	<input type="text" value="everybody"/>
Publish profile to	<input type="text" value="everybody"/>
Get email notifications	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

Back

3. My buddies

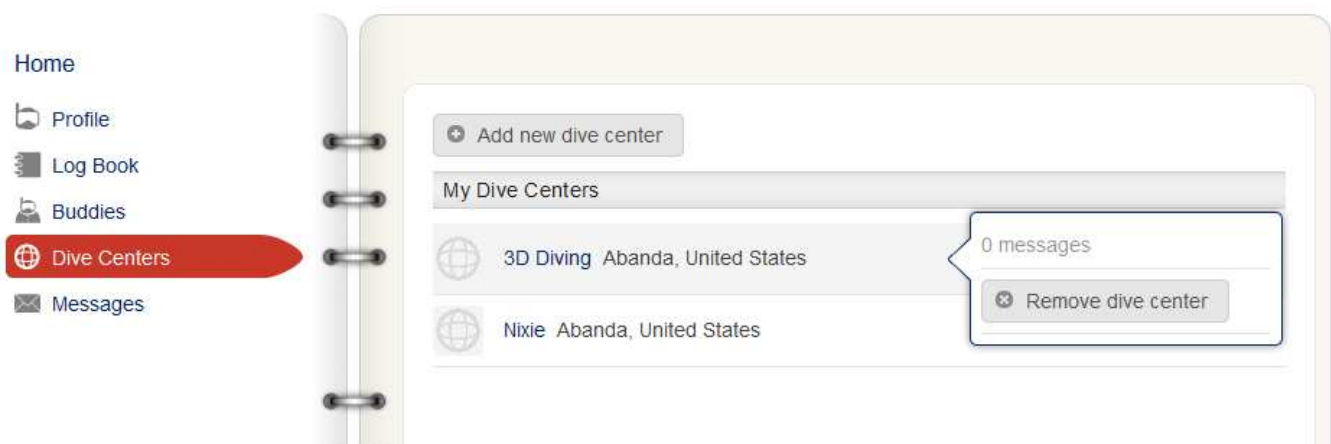

Buddies are the divers and instructors you want to keep in touch with. Add them to your buddy list so you'll be able to share your scuba world with them. You can add a buddy from the 'Buddies' page or even directly from the logbook when you have just completed a dive with a new buddy. Note that every buddy request needs to be approved by the buddy before you are officially..., well, buddies.

4. My dive centers

On Nixie you associate with dive centers where you do your dives, or that interest you and you want to keep in touch with. Associating with a dive center (becoming a 'member') allows the dive center to sign your logbook, update your certifications, invite you to activities etc.

Choosing to be a member is only up to you. And you can always terminate it. You are in control!

5. My logbook and my dives

Here we go! Go to your Nixie logbook and start recording your dives. Whenever you designate a dive center, instructor or buddy on a dive, they automatically get a request to sign it. You'll be notified when they do, and you'll see it on the dive page. But that's not all! Dive with a buddy, type in the dive data, and reflect it to his log! Now he has the same logbook entry, already signed by you. When you dive on a group, your instructor can do the same for the whole group in just a click. That means you don't have to do anything, and your logbook fills itself! All is left for you to do, is upload those pictures from the underwater camera. Isn't it why you went diving in the first place?

Let's make lots of bubbles!

The Nixie team